DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kimura (US # 5,445,261) in view of Sahlberg (US # 5,467,859), Kubota (JP 50-21274 Y1) and Shinko (JP 57-175612 A). Kimura disclose transport apparatus including a trough (17), a first protruding part (22a), a reciprocating mechanism (42), and a depressed part (20a). Kimura disclose the claimed invention except for the limitation that the vibration is asymmetric, and the drive mechanism consisting of a rotational motor and a parallel linkage. Sahlberg teach that it is known to vibrate a conveyor such that it accelerates faster in one direction than the other in order to insure that the material moves in one direction only (Col. 2, lines 15-30). According to the JPO, this same idea is also shown by the example of Shinko. It would have been obvious to the ordinary practioner to use an asymmetric drive means, as suggested by Sahlberg, for the vibrational conveyor of Kimura for efficiency.

As noted by the JPO, Shinko teaches that the use of a rotational motor combined with a parallel linkage is a known drive means for a vibrating tray, and therefore it would have been obvious to substitute the drive means of Shinko for its functional equivalent drive means in Kimura based on its art recognized suitability for its intended use. See MPEP §§ 2144.06 & 2144.07.

The limitations in some of the claims that mention various alternative locations for the protruding and depressed parts (on the side, facing certain directions, etc.) do not add any patentable weight since it would have been obvious to simply relocate parts. See In re Japikse, 181 F.2d 1019, 86 USPQ 70 (CCPA 1950); and, MPEP § 2144.04.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
